

Richard Denbow

Association of Metropolitan Planning Associations (AMPO), Washington, DC

Rich Denbow is the Director of Technical Programs at AMPO, where he assists AMPO members and partners with the technical issues that MPOs address in the metropolitan planning process.

Rich has 14 years of experience working on transportation planning issues. His focus areas include air quality conformity, safety, security, management and operations, transit planning, ITS, environmental justice, public participation, and just about any other issue that MPOs address.

Rich previously worked for the US EPA's Office of Transportation and Air Quality, ICF Consulting, and as an independent consultant. He has managed the transportation conformity process for two MPOs and developed several state implementation plans for air quality.

Mr. Denbow has a M.S. in Environmental Planning from the University of Michigan and a B.S. in Business Administration from the University of Florida.
